DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because undue length. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.

- (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
 - (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
 - (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
 - (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
 - (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
 - (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Objections

3. It is noted that claims presented in the Amended Sheet (dated 03/11/2004) are being examined.
4. Claims 5-8 and 10-18 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim can not depend on other dependent claims. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5-8 and 10-18 have not been further treated on the merits.
5. It is also noted that in order to invoking 112, 6th paragraph, the doctrine of equivalency, the language should meet the requirements of the new rules. The new rules require for the language to meet the three prongs, i.e.;
- (A) the claim limitations must use the phrase "means for " or "step for ";
 - (B) the "means for " or "step for " must be modified by functional language; and
 - (C) the phrase "means for " or "step for " must not be modified by sufficient structure, material or acts for achieving the specified function.
6. Claim 9 is objected to because of the term "preferably", which fails to positively recite the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1-4 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of Hite et al. (6,282,999).

AAPA (pages 1 and 2 of the instant specification) meets all of the limitations of claim 1, i.e., an adjustable foot having first and second adjustable parts (2, 6) threadably connected; a washer (7) on a supporting part (4), convex and concave surfaces, except for disclosing a tool for setting the height of the foot.

Hite et al. teaches an installation and removal tool having radially movable grippers 40 operably connected to an operator 24 by a transmission mechanism 18, 26. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to combine the invention of AAPA with the tool as taught by Hite et al. as an alternative simple means for installation/removal or adjustment of the parts.

Regarding claims 2-4 and 9, AAPA and Hite et al meets the limitations, internally engaging the hole, partially or completely sunken (concave shape); regarding claims 3 and 4, making the hole circular, partially non-circular, with corresponding tool, would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, since it has been held that changing shape, dependent on work-piece parameters, involves only routine skill in the art. In re Stevens, 101 US PQ 284(CCPA1954)..

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claims 1-4 and 9 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-22 of copending Application No. 10/541,265 in view of prior art cited above. Claims of the copending application (patent not yet issued), anticipates the claims of the pending applicant except for the combination with a tool. It would have been obvious, to have provided the invention of copending claims 1-22 with the tool in view of Hite et al, to provide an installation/removal means and since combining prior art elements according to known methods yields predictable results.

Conclusion

11. Prior art made of record and not relied upon at this time, are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Van Hoose, Layne and Shapiro et al are cited to show related inventions.
